

The Liberian MarketPlace at the Nancy B. Doe JorkpenTown Market

The project will expand the existing “Liberian Marketplace” Trade Store to the newly renovated facility located on the top floor of the Nancy B. Doe, Jorkpen Town Market on 8th Street, Sinkor. The newly renovated facility allows more MSMEs up to 50 to showcase various Liberian-made products and get more market exposure. It will enhance their linkages to the global market and promote made in Liberia products from sectors like textile, manufacturing and food processing, arts and crafts, rubberwood, etc.

It will also serve as a multi-purpose facility, for example, as a day-care center, restaurant, internet café, and as a farmers market where SMEs in the agriculture sector can bring their produce to the market once a week. The Expansion of the “Liberian Marketplace” Trade Store was conceived in 2015 in recognition of the need to expand the current “Liberian Marketplace” Trade Store and use the expanded Liberian Marketplace Trade Store to provide more product offerings.
